Dismisses Return Kinston Native In England With Air Force

Technical Sergeant Wayne L. Yancey, son of Mrs. W. B. Yancey, Rt. 1, Kinston, is a member of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) element participating in Royal Air Force Strike Command Bomber and Navigation Competition now underway in England.

Sergeant Yancey is a metalworking technician on the ground team supporting SAC aircrews who are operating four B-52 Stratofortress bombers out of Marham R.A.F. Station at Norfolk during the nine-day meet.

The SAC teams are competing with RAF crews flying Vulcan and Victor aircraft during stringent tests of simulated daytime radar bombing runs at high and low altitudes and night flights using celestial navigation. Flying over previously unannounced routes and carrying no weapons, the crews will be scored by electronic devices with impact points determined by radio and radar signals.

It marks the fourth time SAC crews have participated in the RAF competition.

Sergeant Yancey is assigned to the 319th Bomb Wing at Grand Forks AFB, N.D.

The sergeant served during the Korean War and has completed three months duty in Vietnam. He attended Kinston High School. His wife is the former Charlotte McLeod.

THANKS, ALABAMA!

I want to take this opportunity to thank the more than 400,000 of you who stood with us on May 5. I am humble and grateful for your support.

I pledge to you and to all the good people of Alabama that we will move forward to victory on June 2.

Alabama's future is bright and together we can make it a better place for every citizen to live and work. I ask all of you now in the Democratic tradition, to join ranks; those of you who supported me as well as those who supported my good opponents.

I am sorry that race has been made an issue in this campaign by the wholesale delivery of 250,000 bloc votes. Bloc voting is never in the interest of Democracy. It does not serve the majority of the citizens of Alabama and in the long run, will not serve the interest of the group that has been emotionally stirred up to deliver themselves as a bloc.

I have always tried to serve every citizen of the state rather than any single bloc voter or special interest, no matter how powerful, and I will not change now.

You know the accomplishments of the Wallace administrations. I have dealt with some of the programs that we have planned for the 1970's in recent weeks. I shall develop additional points of interest to you. There is so much that needs to be done in Alabama and I am committed to giving you four years of uninterrupted, effective, strong leadership. I want to be your governor.

Again, I thank all of you. I pledge that I will work closely with all citizens and I will not let you down, now or in the future, and with God's help I will make you a good governor.

ELECTRIC BLANKETS Many phone calls concerning electric blanket care remind me it's time to wash the electric blanket pretreat any stains the same way. Soak the blanket in cool suds. If you don't have information on washing, the following instructions will save time. Machine agitation or shaking the blanket to remove dust. Then scrub cycle will remove most of soiled bindings lightly with the water and any remaining sudsy soft brush and ing moisture will evaporate. Never put at electric blanket through a wringer. Blankets may be hand washed. Instead of rubbing, however, use a plunger to suck the suds through the fabric. This loosens soil and eliminates lifting and squeezing the blanket. Straighten the edges and corners. Don't machine dry unless instructed to do so by manufacturers.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE TWENTY-SECOND DISTRICT

L. L. (Dago) Dozier

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all of you for the consideration you gave me at the polls on May fifth. Your support and encouragement are an inspiration for me as I prepare to meet the challenge of the run-off on June 2, 1970.

My friends, the support you have given me makes me even more dedicated to the cause of giving the people of the twenty-second district the kind of representation that is responsible and without the doubts and distrust of former years.

The people are my only special interest. There is nothing the state Senate can give me except the opportunity to serve the people I have lived with all my life. This is all I want - an opportunity to give you a voice in Montgomery that will be heard and respected.

Thank you again for your wonderful support. I hope that you will continue to work for the cause of responsible representation in the future.

Sincerely,

L. L. 'Dago' DOZIER

An extra $16 in peanuts per acre

By supplementing your regular liming program with USS Basic Slag, top-dressed at about 500 pounds per acre, you can expect to average 140 more pounds of peanuts per acre this year. (Or approximately $16.50 more per acre, at 1969 prices for Grade A.)

In addition, you can expect top-dressed Basic Slag to produce a measurably higher percentage of sound, mature kernels than liming alone.

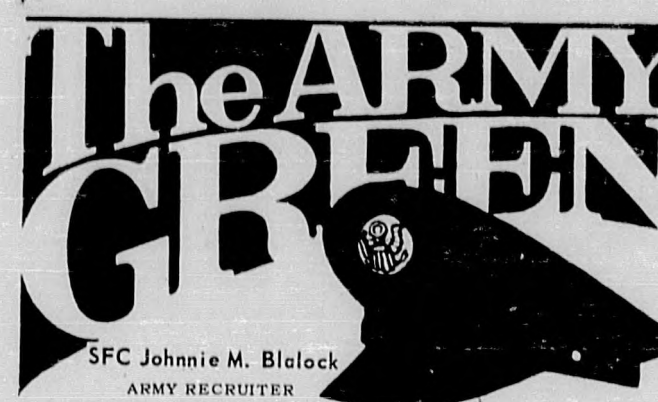

These are the results of a twelve-year study at the Alabama Experiment Station, and the reasons for them are clear.

Basic Slag supplies the quick-acting calcium that peanuts need at pegging time. What's more—unlike other commonly used top-dressings—Basic Slag sweetens the soil and supplies important plant nutrients: phosphorus and magnesium and vital minor elements, like iron and manganese.

Your dealer has Basic Slag in bag or in bulk. Phone him today; don't waste a minute. Because Basic Slag goes to work the minute you spread it.

ARMY RECRUITER
American soldiers continue to be men with big hearts wherever they serve. Typical are the men of Troop D, 1st Squadron, 4th Cavalry, 1st Infantry. They have adopted the children at the Lal Thieu orphanage for deaf-mutes. The soldiers visit the orphanage on a regular basis and supply the 195 boys and 306 girls with food, clothing and toilet articles. They also write letters home to families, churches and fraternal organizations. During visits, the boys and girls converse with soldiers in English by writing on note pads and blackboards.

WHY INFANTRY?
I was talking with someone the other day who couldn't believe that many people join the Army and ask for an Infantry assignment. Why Infantry, he asked? It was simple to answer. Many jobs in the Army require a great deal of technological skill. But very few offer the Infantry's challenges of leadership and responsibility and its sense of pride and comradeship.

The Infantryman is truly a man. He must combine brains and brawn with the stamina to keep going when the going is tough. That's why many young men who visit us each week specifically request assignment to the Infantry. They want a job that offers that extra sense of accomplishment.

I SINCERELY APPRECIATE the votes of all of the people who voted for me in my race for the Office of Probate Judge. Those people who actively worked for my election I especially extend my gratitude. Let's all forget our past and look forward to the future that Coffee County deserves.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

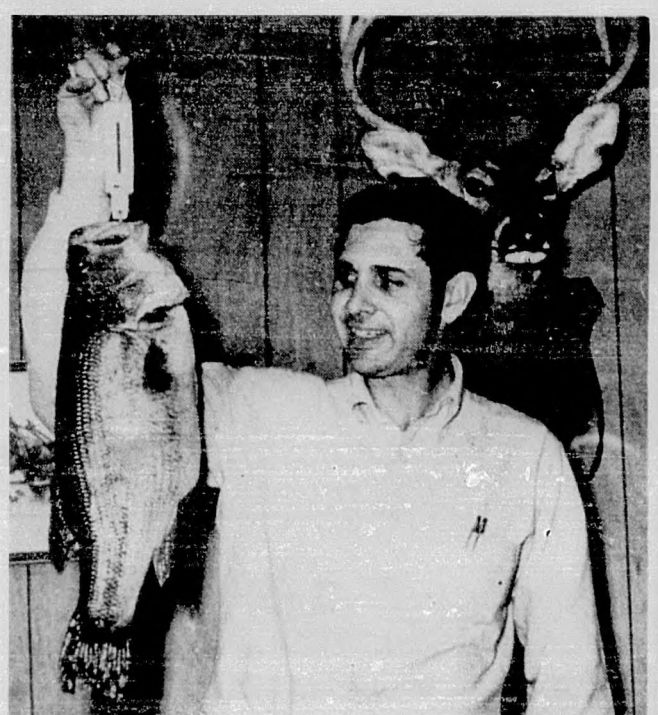

I must make a few choice comments on the Governor's race. The so-called political experts said it was impossible to outpoll George Wallace in an Alabama election but a bunch of amateur campaign workers and Governor Albert Brewer have done it. It was a very slight margin but it was a margin. It was expected by these same "experts" from the start that Brewer would get a good vote in North Alabama but they did not expect South Alabama to give Brewer the vote he received. In many counties where Wallace has in the past received 70% to 80% of the total vote -- his percentage was cut to only a slim lead and far less than the percentage he has been accustomed to in the past. This was and will remain a major factor in the race. If a few more people publicly state they are swinging to Brewer, this race could break wide open much to the surprise of out-of-staters who don't believe Alabama people can think for themselves.

We hear and will continue to hear that the "bloc" (meaning the negroes of Alabama, I guess) voted for Brewer or the black militants want George Wallace re-elected because he served their cause. Well, you can believe what you want to of that. I just put it all down as politics and support the one who I believe will better do the job my high school civics books said the Governor was supposed to do!

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in town next Tuesday. Often people working for the Bloodmobile hear comments from people who are not on the best of terms with the Red Cross for one reason or another. While their complaints may or may not be correct, I personally have heard none that could knock this particular program and neither can I knock it. Go to the church Tuesday and give a pint of blood; it might be your friend, relative or neighbor that owes his life to this bloodbank.

There has never been an election where I won all my votes and this last one was no exception. In fact I have yet to add up my score or figure my percentage of won-lost. Guess it doesn't really matter; the person elected or in the run-off will be my public official as well as the official of those who elected him or her. For this we can thank God and be thankful for our forefathers who made America what it is today.

While it is customary to congratulate the winners, I want to make a special effort to thank the losers -- all of them. America was established on the basis of free elections, giving the people a chance to decide who will serve. Those candidates who ran and lost have done their part (be it small or large) in upholding our American way of government. It has its faults, but no one has come up with anything better! There were 44 people on our ballot who were not winners (but surely not losers) and they surely deserve a Thank You from me all.

Dear Mr. Ross:
I am writing you in regards to an accident that happened on the Troy highway Sunday evening, May 3, 1970.

I am Mrs. Ulma Mack, my son, Don, was involved in the accident. I have heard lots of criticism against our City Police. But in this case I have nothing but praise for you. I think you were the most considerate and understanding policeman I have ever met.

First, let me tell you how much we appreciate you being so nice to Don. He was already shaken up real bad and your being nice to him sure helped him lots. Then when his father and I got to the scene of the accident, I thought you were unusually nice to us and we certainly want you to know that we appreciate you for it.

It's nice to know that we do have some nice and considerate policemen and we'll never forget you. Thanks again for everything.

Planning Ahead Cuts Food Cost
Advance planning makes the difference between high and low cost meals, says Miss Dorothy Overbey, a specialist in consumer education. The homemaker who plans meals can always find ways to cut food costs. For example, planning meals helps in use of leftovers. Sunday's roast beef may be Wednesday's beef stew and Thursday's sandwich treat. By planning ahead you can take advantage of seasonal and "best buys" in the grocery store, explains Miss Overbey. Shop the newspapers to include such buys in your menus. You're less likely to have "hunger" meals when you plan ahead, adds the specialist. Cookbooks, bulletins, newspapers and magazines all offer suggestions for intriguing, yet budget-wise dishes. Explore new dishes. Many Also, it helps to shop on a may feature inexpensive full stomach.

A MATTER OF LUCK

Jim didn't catch any fish today. Now, on the way home, he can't help casting an envious eye at Tim's haul. It isn't that he begrudges Tim his fish. It's just that, in his heart, he can't help wish that he had been the lucky one.

This is natural, and Jim is young. He's just beginning to learn that you can't always be a winner, but he still finds losing pretty hard to take in stride.

Fortunately, Jim is being given the advantage of Christian training in church during this all-important period in a boy's life when a sense of values is being formed. He is learning lessons which only the Church can give him.

True, Jim is envying a very small item — a string of fish. But envy and greed come to all of us on a larger scale many times throughout life. To meet this challenge squarely, it takes years of self-discipline. That is why religious training can never begin too early.

HIGHER PRICES
The U.S.D.A. announced a few days ago that they were boosting the support price of peanuts by $7.50 a ton. According to a news release that I received the minimum will be an average of $255 per ton compared to $247.50 in 1969. This increase was due to an upward adjustment in the parity prices. The present law reads that the support price must be set between 75% and 90% of parity. The return for this year will be 75% of the parity formula estimate for August 1. Officials point out that the parity price could be greater than the $255 but will not be less.

NEMATODES
Charles Brown in the Jack community called me Friday morning for help in putting out materials to control nematodes in his peanuts. Brown had not tested for nematodes, but his peanuts have been dying in certain areas and he decided to go ahead and treat for nematodes. More and more Coffee County farmers are trying to control all the factors they can in making high yields. I have said many times, most farmers face a lot of problems that they don't have any control over. With the exception of adequate rainfall, they can control just about every other factor going into making a good crop of peanuts.

4-H SPEAKING

MIDDLE AGED AT 27?
In 1920 when the average life expectancy was 54, a person 27 counted half his life. Now, thanks to amazing scientific discoveries, the average life expectancy is over 68 years.

Medical science has also made advances which permit longer life today to be a healthier, pleasant one.

I attended the contest which was held in the Enterprise State Junior College. There were also a lot of parents and neighbors and kinkos who came to hear the speakers. I think this is one of the finest programs that we have in 4-H Club work for certainly the ability to speak effectively will be even more important in the future than it is at present. Our special appreciation to the sponsors—Covington Electric Cooperative; Federal Land Bank Association; Ozark Production Credit Association; 4-H Club Council; South Alabama Electric Cooperative and Wiregrass Electric Cooperative.

HOG BUSINESS
Willie Pate, who is a new - comer to Coffee County from Conoc County, is interested in going into the hog business. He came this week looking for top-quality Landrace and Yorkshire hogs to use on his herd. Pate is working at Ft. Rucker and has the hog enterprise on the side. We have a lot of folks in the county who are working somewhere in the side. This adds a lot of farm income to the county and keeps many of our people fully employed. Hundreds of folks like Pate could be growing feeders or even carrying them on to market weights.

We have plans in our office for all types of buildings and equipment. LIME Coffee County farmers have heard us mention the value of lime on dozens of times, but we have good reason backed by solid research for our recommendations. Experiment Station publications across the South are filled with facts pointing out that lime increases the availability of phosphorus; it favors the release of Nitrogen from organic matter; lime helps the process of Nitrogen fixation from the air; lime counter-balances some of the acidity left by Nitrogen fertilizers and it supplies calcium and magnesium, both required for production of top yields of corn, cotton and peanuts.

Picnic Planned At Rucker On June 6th

The Army Aviation Association of America is preparing to celebrate the 25th birthday of Army Aviation Saturday, June 6, with a picnic at 11 a.m. at the Army Aviation Center Museum.

In addition to the museum's exhibits, there will be a static display of every type of aircraft flown at Ft. Rucker.

The public is invited. Admission is free. However, there will be a cost for the barbecue lunch for those who wish to eat. Proceeds will go to the association's scholarship fund for area high school students.

The Department of Tactics is sponsoring the event. Colonel A. T. (Mac) Pumphrey will be the master of ceremonies.

Brunson To Attend Seminar In New York

Paul R. Brunson, Regional Director, Small Business Administration, Birmingham, will attend a seminar on Administration of Public Policy at the Executive Seminar Center, Civil Service Commission, U.S. Marine Academy in New York for two weeks beginning June 1.

Brunson was selected to represent U.S. Small Business Administration. The seminar focuses on the role of career administrators in the development and implementation of public policy; emphasizes his part in formulating policy objectives and his obligation to assure that agency programs and activities agree with national policies set by Congress and the President. The seminar stresses the part department and agencies play in building, shaping and sharing public programs.

An independent audit of the May 5 Democratic primary election results showed that Judge Renuan Almon and Birmingham attorney William Conway were saving as to who would be the winner. In the final count, Conway was declared the winner with a statewide count indicating Conway had won the nomination to the judgeship by 1,246 votes.

An independent audit of the May 5 Democratic primary, ordered by State Democratic Chairman Bob Vance after several questions were raised concerning the Jefferson County election returns, reversed the race for State Court of Appeals. Almon contested the election on the basis of the erroneous election returns.

The new statewide tabulation gives Judge Almon the nomination by 918 votes. Vance ordered the retabulation done by the certified public accounting firm of Herbert Raburn and Associates. The firm announced its findings at a news conference in Vance's law office Wednesday morning.

So after all, Judge Renuan Almon is the winner over William Conway. Governor Albert Brewer gained 4,789 votes Wednesday over former Governor George Wallace with the completion of an independent audit of the May 5 Democratic primary election returns. If the figures go into the official record, Brewer will lead Wallace by a total of 11,703 votes statewide.

The official count conducted last week by an election subcommittee of the State Democratic Executive Committee gave Brewer a lead of 6,914 votes over Wallace.

Vance said the error was apparently a "mathematical oversight" by persons conducting the count of returns.

Band Day Proclaimed By Local Firm

The House of Fabrics is sponsoring "Band Day," all day this Saturday, May 23.

"Band Day" means that a percentage of every sale attempted by a business in the House of Fabrics to assist in the sale of the House of Fabrics Uniform Fund, in an advertisement this week the House of Fabrics say.

"There is your chance to help your boys and girls raise the money they need, as well as getting in on savings for yourself." They continue with "Come on down and join in the fun; these young ladies are waiting to help you. Let's all get behind the 'Band Uniform Fund' drive."

The House of Fabrics has proclaimed Saturday, May 23, as "Elba High School Band Day." Fifteen cents of all sales Saturday could amount to a lot of help toward the building in the event of rain on that day.

Anyone, not just members of the League, who does any art or craftwork (woodcarving, panels, needlework, etc.) interested in showing and selling may contact Martha Kainer at the Country Cottage for information. Each artist or craftsman will be assigned a space on the grounds and will sell on the spot.

Work to be entered in the "show and sell" cannot exceed $50.00, with most items being under $25.00.

This is a good chance for local people as well as out-of-town visitors to make purchases for their homes and for gifts at reasonable prices. All Elba people are asked to contact each other, relatives and friends in other towns about this event.

Wallace Telecast Is Criticized

A telecast advertised as "Wallace Meets Alabama Press" is a pretaped, rehearsed program including only selected representatives of the news media. A Montgomery television station said Monday, Charles Catton, news director of WSAF-TV in Montgomery, said in his 6 p.m. newscast Monday, George Wallace goes on statewide television tomorrow in what he has billed "Wallace Meets The Alabama Press."

Representatives of the Daily Mountain Eagle, Baldwin Times and Alabama Farmer newspaper asked the former governor or questions that had been agreed upon in advance. The program was taped Sunday and will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

ALL THE NEWSPAPERS represented on the program have endorsed Wallace in his bid for governor.

The telecast was taped at WSAF's Montgomery studios, Catton said he was not present at the taping session, said in his 6 p.m. newscast Monday, George Wallace goes on statewide television tomorrow in what he has billed "Wallace Meets The Alabama Press."

A newsmen who asked Wallace officials why he wasn't invited to the press conference said he was told they "didn't think you would want to be part of a paid telecast."

Jack House, Wallace's press secretary said there just isn't enough room for everybody in the state to come, and we picked four representatives.

House said the error was apparently a "mathematical oversight" by persons conducting the count of returns.

James Sawyer Statement To Voters Issued

A heartfelt thanks was given to the voters of Coffee County this week by James Sawyer for the excellent vote he received in the first primary election May 5th. In a vote that was almost unprecedented in the history of the county, Sawyer was well out in front of all his opponents.

Looking forward to the runoff election on June 2nd, he said, "I invite all those who are not in the runoff to join with me in these final days of the campaign."

Speaking of the duties and responsibilities of the probate office, Sawyer said he's already familiar with the county government where and how much the income for the operation of county government comes. Therefore, he will not have to devote time to the study of this first government before knowing what he can do in other areas.

"I have no other interests or other duties to conflict with doing my job as probate judge," he said. "I work at my job throughout the working day and whenever my services are needed."

He said his five years in Army service doing clerical and administrative work and his experience as county tax collector lend themselves to fulfilling the duties and responsibilities of the probate office. He is already familiar with the records of the probate office and many of the duties are similar to those now being performed.

Sawyer said he promised to give the same efficient courteous and impartial service in the probate office as he has given in the tax collector's office.

Jr. College Graduation Set

Enterprise State Junior College will graduate the largest class in its five year history June 6.

President B. A. Forrester has announced the names of 83 candidates for the associate degree and eight who expect to receive certificates. The announcement came during the first "Alabama State Junior College Week" being observed May 10-16.

Increased enrollment is one reason for the larger number of graduates. Forrester said. Another is that more students are choosing to complete requirements for the ESJC degree before transferring to a senior college. Many consider the first two years when a student completes a diploma from an accredited junior college, he explained. If the student has not been graduated, the registrar at the senior college must match credits against Safety belts save lives if they are worn. Authorities believe the use of seat belts alone could have prevented around 10,000 traffic fatalities last year; and the seat-shoulder belt combination might have reduced crash deaths as much as 80%.

In a recent Swedish study of some 28,000 crashes that occurred at speeds up to 60 mph, 9,000 of the car occupants involved wore seat-shoulder belt combinations. None was a fatally injured. Non-belted occupants died at speeds as low as 12 mph. Your Highway Patrol asks you to buckle up and live.

The Bloodmobile which was set-up at the Westside Baptist Church Tuesday, fell short of their goal by approximately 190 pints less than expected.

Approximately 125 volunteers offered blood and about 100 persons were accepted. Much more blood was needed.
